LCDglass.info is the new online website completely dedicated to LCD glass products as well as to high-tech solutions for glass.

The various LCD glass types we sell are manufactured in Italy according to the very unique specifications demanded by our clients: this is why we are proud to say we offer truly customized LCD glass as well as high-tech glass solutions, not standardized glass products. Our LCD glass is available in three different blends and virtually any type of glass: a competent technical division is in place to guide you through your purchase process and we also offer fully turn-key solutions including installation of LCD glass panes anywhere in the world.

Within this website, you will find a lot of information regarding our full product selection and the installation services we provide: to satisfy any of your LCD glass needs and requirements, we believe our expertise and professionalism will make you a truly satisfied client.
